

CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY INTERNATIONAL

April 5, 2013

STATEMENT OF CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY INTERNATIONAL

For nearly five decades, the Church of Scientology and individual Scientologists have supported Narconons around the world as a vital part of the Church's humanitarian mission. Not only have these programs proven effective at drug rehabilitation, they have rebuilt lives and family relationships by transforming despair into hope for former addicts and their loved ones. Many of the staff members of Narconon know first-hand the horrors of drug addiction and the joys of drug-free living because they have been there. Narconon's 47 years of results speaks to their sincerity and competence and we applaud their contribution to the creation of a drug-free world. For more information on the many charitable social programs the Church supports, visit:

<http://www.scientology.org/how-we-help/introduction.html>

Karin Pouw

Church of Scientology International