✓ Ok. I am forwarding them now.

Maybe it is just me being paranoid, but seriously. This freaked me out.

But do tell me what you think about it all. I have one friend thinking I am being paranoid and the other saying that she thinks it is wierd that he even asked for my e-mail, much more what he said.

Yeah. I have his personal e-mail.

✓ What happened was I gave certain people Thank-you cards, you know? I gave Foley one because he was a really nice guy to me and all. Then, he asked me to write my e-mail on the back of his. So I was like, "sure!" because of course I had no suspicions.

... yeah. Will Humble was just another page he liked. I don't like Will at all. To me, he is the epitome of a narcissist. For real. He had to be better than anyone at anything and was caught lying about a lot of stuff.

But that's enough about Will.

I could just send you the e-mails if you want.

For some reason he likes to talk about riding his bike a lot. . . I don't want to try at find meaning in that. AHH!! lol

This was the one he sent about Will:

"I just emailed will...hes such a nice guy....acts much older than his age...and hes in really great shape....i am just finished riding my bike on a 25 mile journey now heading to the gym....whats school like for you this year?"

And this is the one about send him a pic:

✓ ["how are you weathering the hurricane...are you safe....send me an email pic of you as well.... "

Sick sick sick sick sick sick sick sick sick sick sick. . .

I talked to another page that was here during the school year and first part of summer. Kerianna (her name) said that there was a congressman that did hit on pages. She didn't know his name. . .

| Foley also asked me what I wanted for my birthday coming up. I told him it was in December before when he asked. I dunno, but I don't really think it is coming up any time soon. . . it's still August.

Anyway. If you can, mention this to Rodney so he is aware. I wonder what he would do about it. And if he wants to e-mail me or call me, you can give him my info if he doesn't already have it.

| Well. It's late and I have freaked out enough tonight, lol. I still haven't e-mailed him back, and I don't think I will for a while, if ever. What do you think about it all??

Yeah. I am so excited about TARS. I introduced it to the student body today at Club Day and about
