The American Federation of Teachers knows: Hillary Clinton is prepared to deliver change.

All of the candidates want change. The question is: Who has the right combination of skills, experience and determination to make change happen?

Whether it's education, health care or the economy, Hillary Clinton is best prepared to take on the challenges we face—and she's ready to lead from Day One.

That's why she is supported by the 1.4-million-member American Federation of Teachers.

Democratic endorsement editorial: Why Clinton

“The job requires a president who not only understands the changes needed to move the country forward but also possesses the discipline and skill to navigate the reality of the resistant Washington power structure to get things done.

That candidate is New York Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton.

...The times demand results. We believe as president she'll do what she's always done in her life: Throw herself into the job and work hard. We believe Hillary Rodham Clinton can do great things for our country.”

Hillary is prepared to bring real change.
